Banquet of District Branch of Society of the Army of Santiago de Cuba.

It was neither the feast nor the flowing bowl that marked the annual banquet of the District of Columbia branch of the Society of the Army of Santiago de Cuba at the Army and Navy Club last evening, but the wealth of reminiscences and incidents, many of them never published, which were disclosed in the numerous informal speeches delivered by those present. The applause and the laughter that punctuated the different stories testified to the jovial good fellowship of the occa-

Gen. George H. Harries, as president of the District branch of the society, was the toastmaster of the banquet, and to his selection were left the speakers of the evening, which included all who could or would make a speech or tell a story. Those present at the banquet in-
